DR. PARKER

The Call of the Highlands has been answered in many ways this year. One characteristic that has played an important part in every activity has been the cooperation between student leaders and the administration. Dr. Parker has provided Highland with the opportunity to make great strides in educational development. Dr. Parker tried in every way possible to work with the students to achieve success for Highland, and any success that was ours this year is due in part to his efforts. Highlanders will always be grateful to Dr. Parker for the administrative excellence which he provided and the benefits that resulted from that excellence.

MR. PALMER

As Highland's disciplinarian, Mr. Palmer often appears as a strict individual; but his loyalty to Highland and his presence at every activity has made him a friend to all. Mr. Palmer's smile and his "good morning, Highland" have added a great deal to Our Time.

*Have trouble

MR. BENNION

The patience and guidance of Mr. Bennion, assistant principal, are appreciated by Highlanders. From changing schedules at the beginning of the year to planning the graduation program at the end, Mr. Bennion undertakes the task of seeing that all of Highland's academic procedures run smoothly. The assistant principal, by initiating experimental teaching programs and organizing new student curriculums, keeps Highland at the top of the high scholastic standards of Our Time.

COUNSELORS

Myrth Harvey

The scheduling of classes, problems of punctuality and attendance, striving to satisfy both students and teachers, and the challenge of college admissions — these are a few of the many responsibilities of Highland's counseling staff.

Due to their capabilities and their desire for the furthering of the opportunities of Highlanders, they gained added respect for the school and themselves.

Dr. Arthur C. Wiscombe

On December 1, the Salt Lake Board of Education building was involved in a $50,000 fire and at that time, it was made evident the quality of the central administration of the district. Within a few days the Salt Lake Board and all of its intricate operations were close to normalcy. Throughout the year this group of men strived to run the district with efficiency and were successful in their efforts.

P.T.A.

Bridging the gap between students, teachers, and parents, the P.T.A. unified Highland in academic and extracurricular areas. Sponsoring ticket sales, adult education programs, and student assemblies, the association of parents and teachers performed services for the school and community which are necessary for effective education.

CUSTODIANS

A messy, cafeteria, littered halls, a dusty gymnasium floor. The matrons and custodians each day scrub every inch of Highland so that these scenes are avoided. Working night and day, the custodial staff allows the outward appearance to match the inner pride characteristic of a beautiful school.

Delia Florence
Cafeteria Manager

CAFETERIA

Cleanliness and those famous hamburgers will remain in the memories of Highlanders as the products of the cafeteria. The staff under the direction of Delia Florence provided the fuel to keep Highlanders going. Much of our time was spent in enjoyment of cafeteria food.

A knowledge of English is needed in order to do any-

LANGUAGE

The excitement of being able to travel to foreign lands while remaining in the classroom is transferred by instructors. With a knowledge of foreign customs and speech comes a greater understanding of the world's people. A door to travel abroad is also opened wider to those Highlanders who have studied a language.

SOCIAL STUDIES

A study of man, his behavior, his problems, and his progress is presented by the social studies teachers. From Leif Erickson to meglomania, Highlanders are instructed in a subject vital to living in the complex society of Our Time

Paving the way to the moon, exploring the ocean floor, developing a cure for cancer, the scientists of today are leading the progress of our nation. The science instructors are presenting students with historical background, basic theories, and recent discoveries related to this dynamic field.

OUR

STUDENTS

Dear Highland,

In the four, short years I have known you, I have witnessed, learned, and experienced more than is imaginable. You have become more than just a name, building, or an education. You live, breathe, laugh, conquer, and sometimes fail, but always with the heart and desire of a multitude.

You exist in countless forms. You are the screaming crowds which flood the stadiums and bleachers, the proud and dauntless team which thrives in the fiercest competition. You are the actors and performers, the audiences, the organizations which serve and honor. You are the men and women who, year after year, continue to demand quality and excellence. You are each an individual which lives, creates, and belongs.

Highland, you are the traditions which have been born, tested, and maintained with reverence over the years. You are the memory of great individuals who have shaped and guided our lives. You are the recollection of past and present accomplishments which have brought distinction and fame.

Highland, you exist in all that is seen, felt, and strived for. You have reached a pinnacle in fame and glory. You are envied by those on the outside and cherished by those on the inside. None can ever be as proud as you for none will ever be as great.

I thank you for the unforgettable opportunity and privilege I have had to serve and represent you. The experiences we have shared will always be remembered and cherished. You will live in my memory and exist in my heart forever.

Respectfully,

Elliott Williams

A sincere love for Highland and a desire to bring glory to her name was the goal of Boyd Bryan. On the football field or on the basketball court, Boyd gave everything he had for the success of the Rams. And as a student body officer he worked as a member of a team, a team that led Highland to success. Boyd's efforts were the result of a sincere devotion to Highland.

STUDENT

Janean Nielsen
Secretary

Janean Nielsen's enthusiastic manner and eagerness for Highland to excel were shown daily at Highland. Her organization and patience were necessary qualities in performing her duties of taking notes in the Board of Control meetings and corresponding with other schools. Highland has benefited due to the energy and leadership qualities exhibited by Janean Nielsen.

Jim Gilson
Second Vice President

The big smile and the loud voice of Jim Gilson added to the spirit of every student body function. Jim's drive, enthusiasm, and intelligence made him a vital part in the success of Highland. Jim's achievements as a debator, a football player, and as a wrestler, and his charm as an officer gained a great deal of respect for Jim and for the school.

Highland's men, led by Doug Epperson, Brad Pentalute, and Steve Poulson, provided the strength for the achievements of the Rams. Participation in school activities was the goal of H.A.M., and this was provided for in a great intramural program and a successful Boys' Dance. From organizing golf and ping-pong tournaments to putting up decorations for the dance, the H.A.M. officers and the H.A.M. representatives provided spirit for Highland.

Originality was the cue for seniors this year. Glen Vander Werff, class president, Vice President David Lee, and Secretary Debbie Dykes spent many hours trying to prove the superiority of the Senior Class — whether in talent, spirit, or humor.

A personification of spirit — Highland '87 was born, united, and grew in excellence. All will remember the permanent symbol of the greatness of Our Time

Brent Hewlett
President

The Call of the Highlands was aptly answered by the Junior Class this year, led by President Brent Hewlett, Vice-President Eric Nelson, and Secretary Holly Sorenson. Early in the Year, these officers set their goals by telling their fellow juniors at the Juniors Class Orientation that they were the success of Highland. They later went on to prove this support with the directory and a memorable Junior Prom

There are many ways to get involved in the school community. You can join a club, participate in sports, or even start your own organization. The key is to find something that interests you and to get involved. This is a great opportunity to meet new people and to make a difference in your school.

SOPHOMORE OFFICERS

The Sophomore Class, every year, is faced with the responsibility of adapting to the life at Highland. These first year students have to fit into the life of the school and prepare for the time when they will lead Highland. Highland's Sophomore Class has been fortunate this year, as it has been many times in the past, to have officers of excellence. Mike Coulam, Mark Durham, and Allyson Smith have provided the leadership that has made the time of sophomores one of achievement and contribution in answering the Call of the Highlands.

Dear Highland

In the years to follow I'll look at this yearbook and I'll remember all my experiences as an AFS student in America and especially at Highland

This year has been something very special for me. Since I arrived here last summer, I've been discovering things about America and Americans that were unknown to me; things that I have learned at Highland

In my short year at Highland, I have felt the excitement of triumph and the bitter disappointment of defeat, but still this marvelous student body has stayed united to keep Highland on the top. A part of that spirit and love will always remain in my heart.

You, Highland, have made me feel welcome and have given me the opportunity to become a small part of you. I've made good friends here, and with their friendship, I recall the words of the song: "No Man Is An Island." These words have been proven, without a doubt, to be accurate

If any of you happen to go to Chile some day, you will be welcome to my home. I'll try to make you as happy there as you have made me here

Gracias, Highland, por la hospitalidad y el cariño que me han demostrado

Yours, truly,

Rocio Garcia

Liebe Highlanders!

As this wonderful year at Highland comes to a close, I start recalling many cherished and exciting memories. This year at Highland has been one of the most important years of my life.

Who could forget any of the wonderful experiences, victories and even defeats, that were witnessed here! I loved Highland from the moment I saw it; and during the year I became a part of it, because the students made me feel this way. I am happy that Highland is the school I was able to attend during this year in America. I received the image of what it is like to be in the best school, and I can take this wonderful memory with me when I go back to Austria

I'll always remember my first days in school when I always stood up when answering questions as I did at home; or the first football game I saw—I could not understand what was going on when everybody tried to kill each other. But soon I learned the rules and got to love the game. One can hardly imagine how great an experience this year has been for me; and, therefore, I want to thank all of you so much, because you have made it this way!

Vielen Dank und

Auf Wiedersehen!

MODEL U.N.

7:30 meetings and the study of political views of Austria and the Soviet Union made the Model United Nations a success at Highland this year. Under the guidance of Mr. Hogen- sen, the club met months before the mock session at the University of Utah to draw up resolutions that would be presented to the other clubs of the state. In the study of the viewpoints of other nations, these Highland- ers gained a better understanding into the workings of this international organization.

Carbon, Alpine, Weber, Region and State are the victories of the Highland debate team, a string of victories unprecedented in Highland's history and seldom matched by any team in the history of the state of Utah. Under the guidance of a man, small in stature, but large in devotion and ability, forensics competition at Highland reached the epitome of excellence. The characteristics of this team—hard work, devotion, ability, organization, and pride—united with excellent leadership. These characteristics resulted in Highland's eleventh straight region championship and second state championship in the history of the school. The Call was answered with success by the forensics competitors, and to them has gone the respect of Highlanders and opposing schools.

The won-lost record of the 1966 football Rams might not be a record to be bragged about. ALL-STATE

A quiet Friday afternoon
The sunny stadium leaks a thousand cheers
A thousand voices focus on a single ball

The greatest block of the year!
Erased by a single red flag
A cleated hand
A swollen lip
A leg too torn to walk

"The kickoff" with a pointed toe of determination
"The Half" with three-fourths of the fight yet to go
Two unbending towers of color
Clash until one small brick
Topples out of place

Friday at dusk
Blood, wrinkled programs, torn pompons stain the field
Groans and vells echo as memories
The pass is complete

Lost in the clouds
The sunlight strains to remember
Night forgets the afternoon
While the concrete RAM victory
Blazes in the black starlight

BASKETBALL

Following champions is always a difficult task, and this year's defending state champs found the going rough. It was a season, marked not by the success of the win-loss record, but rather by spirit, devotion, and teamwork. The "small" team strived for perfection and obtained achievement as fine athletes. The 1966-67 basketball Rams were a team to be proud of.

BASEBALL

The state trophy, for the first time, was captured last year by the baseball squad. With a remarkable record of 18-1 the team handily provided Highland with another state crown. HIGHLANDER

Recording the minutes of the year, the twenty-two members of the Highlander staff have photographed and compiled "The Call of the Highlands." From the senior summer party, to basketball, to graduation, the staff has captured the activities of the school which have echoed throughout the valley. In addition, the feelings, emotions, and unique mood marking our generation have been studied by the staff. The grains composing the accomplishments of Our Time have been sifted and now are overturned for the inspection of Highland.

RAMBLER

The newspaper staff, from registration until graduation, reported and interpreted the news events vital to Highlanders. The monthly issue of the paper announced student award winners, spotlighted athletic titles, introduced election candidates, and interviewed prominent community officials. The life of the student as well as his school and community activities were reported and preserved by the Rambler staff.

Highland's creative writing class, the In Black and White staff, has written, edited, and judged hundreds of pieces of literature to be printed in the literary magazine. In addition to the class's writings, the staff has sponsored contests for seniors (poetry), juniors (short story), and sophomores (essay), and has published winning writings. In 1967 In Black and White staff will be competing nationally with other high school literary magazines for its second consecutive All-American rating.

A seven o'clock invasion of the gyms, curlers in hair, breakfast in hand — this, too, is a Pep Club. KEY CLUB

Service has always been the foundation of Key Club, but this idea of service was greatly expanded this year by a Key Club that was marked by greater participation and more activities than ever before. Key Clubbers, led by their great officers, went beyond the activities of ushering and selling programs. They participated in the stadium project before school even started and continued throughout the year with the goal of helping the community and improving Highland. The 1967 Key Club was an organization that gained respect and brought service to Our Time.

SABRE TEAM

PRE-MED CLUB

Aspirant doctors, nurses, and medical technicians toured hospitals and studied through films and speakers the multiple opportunities offered by a medical career. Under the direction of Mr. Chappell, the Pre-Med Club members prepared themselves for vocational training

FOLK MUSIC CLUB

Halls deserted by noisy students were silent except for the plucking of guitars and the twanging of banjo strings — the Folk Music Club. Folk music, an integral part of Our Time, was played and appreciated by Highlanders. Club meetings included listening to guest artists and recordings and group participation in "sing-ins."

MATH CLUB

Preparation for the National Math Tests, visits to computer centers, and discussions with university professors were included among the activities of the Math Club. Students interested in mathematics increased their knowledge of this precise science which serves as the basis for the technological advances of Our Time.

SPANISH CLUB

Ole! Although not traveling to Spain for the running of the bulls in Barcelona, or taking a siesta in the Mexico City sun, the Highland High Spanish Club puts fun into learning a foreign language.

GERMAN CLUB

Root beer and pretzels, the movie magic of the Blue Max, experiences of a foreign exchange student — the results of a drive toward a common goal — fun. The Highland German Club has provided the Deutsche Students with the means for an enjoyment of the study of a foreign language. The Call of the Highlands was answered with a mighty "Ach du Lieber."

A.F.S. CLUB

Fellowship across the seas is a characteristic of this country-conscious club. Discussions of other lands provide a greater understanding, understanding that breeds cooperation. The A.F.S. club also will sponsor a Highland student in a foreign land next year. The activities of these Highlanders, and Our Time goes abroad

CLIMBING CLUB

A climbing club that didn't climb. A group of Highlanders interested in the techniques of meeting the challenge provided by nearby mountains joined together and formed a new club this year. Although not allowed to climb as a group in conjunction with the school, these aspiring mountaineers studied methods that were helpful in private adventures

DECA CLUB

The system of free enterprise is the foundation of the activities of the DECA Club. DECA, Distributive Education Club of America, enabled these Highlanders to discover the intricacies of the American business world. In conjunction with the Marketing class and under the guidance of Mrs. Paver, DECA participants were given a unique insight into an important part of Our Time.

RUSSIAN CLUB

Meeting to further learn of the fascinating differences between our country, our way of life, and those of the Soviet Union, interested Russian students have banded together. Through attending lectures and films much was learned about the inhabitants, the customs, and the culture of this foreign land.

FRENCH CLUB

With the largest membership in Highland's history — over 150 students — the French Club has sponsored many activities, including a dinner at Le Bistro, a Mardi Gras, and meetings with guest speakers and films. Visiting France vicariously, the members have learned about the people and places they hope to visit one day.

RED CROSS CLUB

A willingness to help others was the outstanding quality of the members of the Red Cross Club. At Christmas time the club gathered books, games, pens and other items needed by the soldiers in Viet Nam. Later in the year they donated service hours at the local chapter of the Red Cross.

F.T.A.

If men are to become great they must have vast knowledge, for it is knowledge that runs a home, a business, a country — a world. Education then, must be considered as the greatest factor in a progressing world. This is the philosophy which causes students to join Future Teachers of America in hopes that they will be able to provide vital information for future teachers.

DANCE CLUB

Dusty bare feet, a black and white shift over leotards and tights, practices after school, improvising to jazz, choreographing to poetry. Fifty-two girls devoted to Terpsichore, the Muse of Dance. From September until February, the Dance Club members practiced after school for their annual concert. Dances were choreographed, costumed, and performed by the students. Club members also appeared on assemblies throughout the year, at faculty functions, and at various student activities. The R.O.T.C. cadets made their basement into a practice room for the girls, putting in a hardwood floor, ballet bars, and mirrors.

ACTIVITIES

SENIOR SUMMER PARTY

Senior men and women returned to Highland in late August for a preview of the coming school year, "Senior Summer Celebration." After renewing acquaintances with classmates, Highlanders were treated to hot dogs, drinks, and a color film featuring Highland personalities

HELLO DAY

Spirit reigned on Hello Day as Highlanders began to answer the Call. A presentation of cement letters for the stadium, a bell to ring out the victories of the Rams, and the Pep Club 1966-67 were presented. Highlanders responded, said hello to their officers and football team and the school year was under way

MARINE BAND

Highland had a rare treat when the Marine Band for San Diego, California, performed in the gym. The band combined precision-marching with contemporary music. The music of the Tijuana Brass went well with the steady rhythm of marching feet

KICK-OFF DANCE

The Rambler staff presented a kick-off dance in honor of the football team. For the occasion the gym was adorned with black and white hanging leaf chains and the year's theme - Call of the Highlands - was emphasized. A magnificent mountain was planned as the dominant decoration, however the unfortunate creation collapsed before the termination of the evening.

CLEARFIELD PEP ASSEMBLY

Highland's beautification project, cementing "Rams" and "H" on the weed-infested stadium wall, was unveiled at the Clearfield Pep Assembly. After student fund-raising efforts and Board of Education subsidies, Highlanders were able to clear the area, pour the cement, and place sod around the letters.

CAREER DAY

Highlanders were given the assistance of experience as the Sugar House Kiwanis and Counselor Mr. Johnson directed the annual career day. Airline stewardesses, psychiatrists, or maybe a veterinarian or two will come from the inspiration of those adults of our community in these professions who told students what the world outside is like as far as employment is concerned.

SOUTH PEP ASSEMBLY

South's Ku Cub Klan, opposed to both Black and White, invaded the Highlands during the South Pep Assembly. The mighty Rams managed to tear apart the blue-blooded terrorists in another victory for the Black and White.

AFTER GAME PARTY

Highlanders celebrated a key victory, a revenge victory over South High with an after game party. Highlanders turned out in force to frug, swim, and you name it on the night of victory for the Rams

FISHER BODY ASSEMBLY

Highland boys were introduced to the changing world of automobiles and the new developments brought about recently in the field of science by the automobile industry. An interesting movie gave the Highland men an insight into a topic that was exciting and vital to all

HOMECOMING

The Dimensions of a Decade, the spreading out of Highland on its ten-year foundation, provided the theme for the week of Homecoming. Alums and students enjoyed the assembly which included past musicians, dramatists, and officers. A tea was served following the assembly at which time former students could socialize and recall past experiences. Classes were open to visitors during the day. A half-time parade climaxed activities at the annual football game. Falling leaves greeted alums as they returned Saturday evening to the homecoming "Les Feuilles D'Automne." The splendor of Greek statues and fountains and the authenticity of golden-leaved trees made the French garden a scene of enchantment.

"OLIVER!"

Highlands' auditorium was transformed to jolly old England through the combined efforts of a fine cast under the superb direction of Mr. Allred, Mr. Vigos, Mr. Christensen, and Mr. Ross. For three nights, audiences thrilled to the music of Lionel Bart's "Pick a Pocket or Two," "Consider Yourself" and a memorable "As Long As He Needs Me." The Highland High production of "Oliver!" was a school play that will not be soon forgotten.

THANKSGIVING

Thanksgiving festivities began as the Balladiers, ten Utah State students, entertained Highlanders with folk music, popular songs, and singing and dancing in the traditional Western style. Then at nightfall everyone grabbed his "deer" and joined "The Hunt" in celebration of Thanksgiving at Highland. This Pep Club-sponsored dance hosted pine boughs, cotton rabbits, and stuffed owls as well as couples who danced to the music of Jack Turner

FATHERS AND DAUGHTERS

Who ever heard of a girl taking her father back to the days of nursery rhymes? Well, HAW sponsored its annual fathers-daughters night with a journey back to Father Gooseland, Mother Gooseland with a slight variation. Each class presented its favorite nursery rhyme, and the evening was capped with dancing.

TALENT ASSEMBLY

An assembly totally devoted to students displayed the musical, vocal, and dramatic talents of outstanding Highlanders. Classical piano and violin numbers were included on the program along with several modern dances. The dramatics department presented a male bridge club party for a lighter touch. Highlanders proved that they could both provide and enjoy all varieties of entertainment

EAST PEP ASSEMBLY

A long standing rivalry has made the East-Highland game the most important game of the season. Consequently there has always been an East Pep Assembly. After the usual presentation of awards, the student body was led in cheers in hopes that this spark of spirit would become an explosion by game time.

CHRISTMAS

The Yule season brought decoration and festivities to Highland. Various classes and organizations decked the foyer, cafeteria, and halls with Christmas trimmings. Club officers made large-scale Christmas cards for the main foyer to supplement the student body officers' old-fashioned tree. The music and drama departments combined talent for a Christmas program, "Ten Days of Christmas." All choral and instrumental organizations were included on the assembly which was presented at night for parents as well as during the day for students. The Christmas dance, sponsored by the Board of Control, completed Highland's "Highlights of Christmas." A manger scene, an old-fashioned Christmas scene and multitude of evergreen trees displayed the many facets of an international Christmas.

SNOW SCULPTURES

Snow is always good for skiing, skating, and sleigh riding - but for sculpturing? The stadium was packed, molded, and carved into mountains, Volkswagens, figures, birds, and a prize-winning telephone which answered "The Call of the Highlands." Amorphous snow crystals were given personality and shape while unsuspecting heads were blasted with packed weapons. Cold noses and frozen hands were afterwards treated to hot chocolate and cookies

DAVIS PEP ASSEMBLY

A touch of melodrama and the spirit for an upcoming basketball game provided the ingredients for an unusual pep assembly. The tale of the oppressed and their subsequent rescue set the mood as Highlanders prepared to defeat the Davis Darts on the basketball court

AFTER GAME PARTY

The Highland gym was wired for sound. Six combos the end of a basketball season and wild spirits provided the impetus for the after-season celebration. Harmonious frolicking was a distinct element of Our Time.

GIRLS' DANCE

Highland's Associated Women and their dates took a journey "East of the Sun West of the Moon" to a fantasy land of twinkling lights, water wheels, lady bugs, caterpillars, and toadstools. Bill Link and his combo set a musical pace of waltzes and twists, "The Shadow of Your Smile" and "Surf Safari." Semi-formal dress, Polaroid photographs, and the girls' only chance of the year to invite the boys characterized one of the best attended dances.

LITTLE SOCIETY

Folk music hootenannies returned to Highland with banjo pluckings and guitar strummings reverberating throughout the auditorium. The eight University of Utah students of the Little Society demonstrated that ballads as well as popular songs have a place in today's teenage music.

SEMESTER DANCE

Hi-Debs and R.O.T.C. cadets co-sponsored this mid-year dance which provided a needed break after test week. "Crystal Enchantment," the theme of the dance, was embodied in frozen gardens, paper snowflakes, and frosted trees which decorated the gymnasium.

FREEDOM ASSEMBLY

The principles of freedom must be fought for. This justification for the war in Vietnam was provided by Dr. J. D. Williams in an address to Highlanders. The freedom message was an important one and received well by Highland.

WEST PEP ASSEMBLY

The West pep assembly marked the last basketball game and the final pep assembly of the season. The assembly, one of the finest of the year, put forth the idea that although Highland did not finish in first place, her sportsmanlike conduct, loudly-cheering student body, and undaunted spirit put her in a class above other schools. Through the travels of Ulysses, Highlanders saw a pictorial account of the stadium renovation and of the year's outstanding athletic events.

BOYS' DANCE

The crowds mingled in front of Antoine's while the jazz blared from the horn. Mardi Gras was transformed from an old tradition to a new idea. Prizes predominated much of the interest who ever thought old tin cans would ever be worth so much?

UTAH SYMPHONY

The melodic strings, the strength of the horns and the Abravanel commentary were the characterizations of an assembly that added greatly to the culture of Highland. Appreciation of the arts must be developed among Americans and toward this goal the Utah Symphony presented its annual collection of classical music.

FORENSICS TROPHY

Goals are set and accomplishments made, and those accomplishments should be honored. The 1966-67 Highland forensics team captured every Utah tournament this year, culminating the season with the state championship, winning by an unusually large margin. To that accomplishment went the honor and respect of Highlanders.

ONE-ACT PLAY

The slice of modern-day life presented by the dramatics department under the direction of Mr. Allred took second place in the state for one-act plays. This comedy, "The Private Ear," utilized the universal tale of the diffident man and his plight with love. The fine Highland acting and direction combined for this award-winning performance.

ELECTIONS

A high school is merely a motley collection of talents, aspirations, and personalities. But that school remains only a collection unless brought together and directed by leadership. Highland's achievements of the past have been due largely to the quality of officers that have led the students toward their goals. But each year the "torch must be passed." The future of the excellence of Highland is dependent on successful elections. Hard campaigning, halls strewn with the litter of posters and badges, and the decisions of the students have been the ingredients for the choices of the leaders of 1967-68. Only time can tell, but the light of the future is a bright one, the paths are not easily seen, but the challenges exist and they will be met.

AUTOGRAPHS

The Sophomore Class party provided the opportunity for the class of '68 to celebrate unhampered by upper classmen. They lived up to their reputation as Highland's youngest class.

JUNIOR CLASS PARTY

The frustrations and frustrations of the year merged and exploded in a myriad of excitement. The Junior Class party was a means to end the year on a note of shared celebration.

SENIOR CLASS PARTY

The Seniors began their year with movie previews and ended the year with a bang. When the cocky seniors get together with fire in their eyes, one can never predict the outcome. The class spent the year hard in study and before they paused to be recognized for their efforts on graduation night, reverie was the order and the class party answered the Call

LAGOON DAY

Tickets, rides, and cotton candy took the place of books, tests, and cafeteria lunches . . . Fringed cut-offs and sweat-shirts were worn instead of typical school togs . . . Yes, it was the annual escape from school — Lagoon Day!

YEARBOOK DAY

It has been passed to their hands, the record of Our Time. But the crowded halls, the sprawling authors on the gym floor, and the reflections of life changed the inanimate photographs, art, and literature to a living memory.

FINAL ASSEMBLY

The "Hallowed Halls of Highland," the passing of authority, and the students of Highland High 1966-67 spent their last moments together. There were memories, tears, and reflections on the effort of 2200 students as they have strived to meet common goals. The seniors will leave and go their separate ways, but the others will return; the assembly marked only the end of a chapter. Highland lives on.

IN APPRECIATION

The Highlander '67 is an attempt to accurately record the personalities, moods, and events constituting a school year for 2000 students. We have provided the facts, but the individual must evaluate the significance for his own life. Explanation would be improper and a bias report would be unfair.

We, as the editors, wish to express our gratitude to those who have contributed so much to the creation of this book. Dean Collett, our sponsor, Janet Griffen from Photo Reflex, Harold Peterson, art advisor, and the twenty members of this year's staff.

As op art is a new dimension in the expanding field of art, we are the criteria for a new thought and time. This book is dedicated to you, the students of Highland, with the realization that each second is obsolete to the next in Our Time.

Sincerely,

Jerry Fetzer, Editor

Shauni Cracroft, Associate Editor

The background of the entire page is a complex, abstract pattern. It features a series of concentric circles that create a sense of depth and movement, drawing the eye towards the center. Overlaid on these circles is a grid of small, dark diamonds, which adds a textured, geometric quality to the design. The overall effect is a dynamic and visually engaging composition.
